Deja Vu

Tom woke up this morning with a smile. It was a good night's sleep. His alarm went off at exactly six o'clock and he got straight up without checking his phone. He went to the bathroom and jumped in the shower. He sang his favourite song, We Built this City by Starship and then brushed his teeth.

After getting dressed, he made some breakfast, which was toast and butter and went into the living room to say goodbye to his cat Derek. Derek meowed gently and Tom left for work. He slammed the door behind him as he left his house and pressed his car key to open his car. Beep.

After getting dressed, he made some breakfast, which was pancakes and honey and went into the living room to say goodbye to his cat Derek. Derek meowed gently and Tom left for work. He slammed the door behind him as he left his house and pressed his car key to open the garage.

Tom woke up this morning with a frown. It was a bad night's sleep. His alarm went off at exactly eight o'clock. The first thing he did was check his phone. He went to the bathroom and jumped in the shower. He sang his favourite song, Uptown Girl by Billy Joel and then forgot to brush his teeth.

After getting dressed, he made some breakfast, which was burned toast and strawberry jam and went into the living room to say goodbye to his cat Derek. Derek hissed loudly and Tom left for work. He slammed the door behind him as he left his house and pressed his car key but nothing happened. He pressed it again. Nothing. He tapped and poked the key, trying to unscrew the fob with his nail. He was already sweating and frustrated. Finally the button worked and.
